

MISS GENEVIEVE MAY.

CATARRH OF STOMACH CURED BY PE-RU-NA.

Miss Genevieve May, 1317 S. Meridian St., Indianapolis, Ind., Member Second High School Alumni Ass'n, writes: "Peruna is the finest regulator of a disordered stomach I have ever found. It certainly deserves high praise, for it is skillfully prepared."

"I was in a terrible condition from a neglected case of catarrh of the stomach. My food had long ceased to be of any good and only distressed me after eating. I was nauseated, and felt run down completely. But in two weeks after I took Peruna I was a changed person. A few bottles of the medicine made a great change, and in three months my stomach was cleared of catarrh, and my entire system in a better condition."—Genevieve May.

Smokeless Powder.

"Smokeless powder" is a class name rather than that of any one product. "Indurite," invented by Chas. E. Munroe, an American, in 1889, and made at Newport, R. I., was probably the earliest so-called smokeless powder.

FRANKNESS NOT ALWAYS WISE

Why One Woman Has Determined Henceforth Not to Commit Herself When Advice Is Asked

When the wise woman is asked by the friend of her heart, "How do you think this gown fits?" she edges away from the precipice which yawns at her feet and takes refuge in platitudes. "It's a beautiful gown," she says, and then, with animation, "Aren't we having lots of strawberries this year, and the fruit people say the crop of peaches will be abnormally large," says the Baltimore News.

The wise woman has learned how to answer such questions by sad, sad experience. There was a time when she would have replied, after much thought: "Why, the seam which should go down the middle of your back is a little awry, and one armhole is larger than the other."

She remembers the time when she was innocent and thoughtless, and she did this for the benefit of her dearest friend, who had implored her to be perfectly frank.

She remembers that the friend gave her one look of scorn and swept from the room, remarking frigidly as she did so: "There certainly must be something the matter with your eyes, for this gown was made by the smartest couturiere in the city, and I think it is quite the prettiest and best-fitting I have seen this season."

This page, knowing these things, came the other day upon a friend in her boudoir wearing a new and tip-tilted hat and an absorbed and anxious expression.

ORIGIN OF FLY FISHING

Sport Dates Back to Classic Times, as Shown in Greek Writings of Third Century

Probably few fishermen are aware that fly fishing dates back to classic times, says Forest and Stream. A minute description of the artificial fly as used by Macedonian anglers is given by Aelian, a Greek writer of the third century A. D., as follows:

"Between Borea and Thessalonica there flows a river, Astraenus by name, and there in it fishes of a spotted color; but by what name the people of those parts call them it is better to ask Macedonians. At any rate, these fish live upon the native flies which fall into the river, and are like no flies of any other part; one would neither call them wasp-like in appearance, nor would one reply to a question that this creature is formed like what we call the bumble bees, nor yet like the honey bees themselves. It has really the proper fashion of each of the above. In audacity it is like a fly, in size it might be called a bumble bee, in color it rivals the wasp and it buzzes like the honey bees. All common creatures of this sort are called horse tails. These pitch upon the stream to seek the food they affect, but cannot help being seen by the fish, which swim underneath."

"So whenever one of them sees the fly floating he comes softly, swimming

"Come in, come in!" said the friend when she observed the woman's page looking at her; "you are the very person I most wanted to see. Give me your red-hot ideas about this hat. I have had it sent up on approval, and so I don't have to take it, and I'm not quite satisfied with it myself. Tell me what you think."

The woman's page imagines she is wise in her generation, and she hedged gracefully. "What lovely roses," she said enthusiastically, "and how artistically they are placed."

"Nonsense! What do you think of the hat?" persisted her friend; "tell me the real truth, for I must decide to-day, and I really believe I could get something prettier, don't you?"

Thus conjured, the page dropped her wonted caution. "If you really want to know what I think, I will tell you that, in my opinion, the hat is too large for you; a smaller one would be more becoming."

"Well, this one suits me," replied the friend, tersely. And to a maid passing the door: "Mary Anne, telephone Mme. Browne and tell her I will take the hat she sent up."

The vocabulary of the woman's page was not large enough to meet the occasion, but she anathematized herself by everything she knew, and made a new and unbreakable resolve never to speak her mind again about the possessions of a friend.

STONE IN PERPETUAL MOTION.

What Would Happen to Projectile Dropped Through the Earth.

Most of us have probably speculated, at one time or another, what would happen if a hole were bored right through the earth and one were to drop a stone into it; and F. R. A. S. now gives his views on this puzzling question. "The stone," he says, "would fall with increasing speed to the center of the earth, where it would have attained a speed of nearly 300 miles a minute. Its momentum would carry it at a constantly reducing speed through the remaining half of its journey until by the time it appeared at the antipodean end of the hole it would have come to a standstill. It would then begin to drop again, and would perform exactly the same journey on its return to the starting point. Thus it would continue to travel backward and forward from one end of the earth to the other practically forever."—London Tit-Bits.

Cleaning India Rubber Goods.

To clean indiarubber goods, a piece of clean, household flannel should be rubbed upon a bar of common yellow soap. When a lather is obtained, apply the flannel to the rubber and pass it briskly over the surface. This will speedily make the article clean. Set to dry in a cool breeze.

UNSIGHTLY BALD SPOT.

Caused by Sores on Neck—Merciless Itching for Two Years Made Him Wild—Another Cure by Cuticura.

"For two years my neck was covered with sores, the humor spreading to my hair, which fell out, leaving an unsightly bald spot, and the soreness, inflammation and merciless itching made me wild. Friends advised Cuticura Soap and Ointment, and after a few applications the torment subsided, to my great joy. The sores soon disappeared, and my hair grew again, as thick and healthy as ever. I shall always recommend Cuticura. (Signed) H. J. Spalding, 104 W. 104th St., New York City."

Modern Pictures Not Wanted.

In recent years it has become a matter of increasing difficulty for a living English artist to find a market for his wares, says the Academy. The middle classes appear to have concluded that original pictures are entirely beyond the means of persons with a moderate income, and content themselves with photographs. The wealthy, on the other hand, appear to consider picture-buying merely in the light of an investment, and all they want is a safe thing like preference stock—the established reputations.

Truths that Strike Home

Your grocer is honest and—if he cares to do so—can tell you that he knows very little about the bulk coffee he sells you. How can he know, where it originally came from, how it was blended—or with what—or when roasted? If you buy your coffee loose by the pound, how can you expect purity and uniform quality?

LION COFFEE, the LEADER OF ALL PACKAGE COFFEES, is of necessity uniform in quality, strength and flavor. For OVER A QUARTER OF A CENTURY, LION COFFEE has been the standard coffee in millions of homes.

LION COFFEE is carefully packed at our factories, and until opened in your home, has no chance of being adulterated, or of coming in contact with dust, dirt, germs, or unclean hands.

In each package of LION COFFEE you get one full pound of Pure Coffee. Insist upon getting the genuine. (Lion head on every package.)

(Save the Lion-heads for valuable premiums.)

CALLED WIZARD OF JAPAN

Inhabitants of Mikado's Empire Honor Shimonose. Inventor of a Most Powerful Explosive

The story of Dr. Gian Shimonose and his wonderful gunpowder is told by Yone Noguchi, in "Success." The following brief quotation gives an idea of the great Japanese inventor and his work:

Japan is honoring Dr. Gian Shimonose the inventor of the Shimonose gunpowder which the Japanese navy is using in the war with Russia. Russia herself frankly admits the power and effectiveness of the Japanese balls.

Dr. Shimonose is 46 years old. He married when he was 26. He is the father of one son and one daughter. His wife is said to be remarkable for her sympathy with her husband's work. The Japanese sentimentally call him one of the great inventors of the world, not merely of Japan. He was born poor and without any support for his education. While at home he studied English under Fumio Murata, who studied in London. In his eighteenth year he left home for Tokyo on foot. At that time Japan had no railroad and no steamers ran regularly. From Hiroshima, his native province, to Tokyo, is some 500 miles in Japanese measurement. When he reached the capital he went through the examination and was successfully admitted to the Imperial university. From scantiness of money he was often compelled to go without food. He borrowed text books from a fellow student and copied them. It is said that he could not raise money even for his hair cutting or a bath. After graduation he found work in a printing office. His first wages were small, but, like many successful Americans, he always had an ideal in mind and toward this ideal he constantly worked. He is given great credit for the victories over Russia.
